Program Solicitation: Sound Health Network

Application Deadline: November 19, 2019

Applications must be submitted electronically through Grants.gov, the federal government’s online application system. The Grants.gov system must receive your validated and accepted application no later than 11:59 p.m., Eastern Time, on the deadline date above. We strongly recommend that you submit your application no later than November 9, 2019 to give yourself ample time to resolve any problems that you might encounter.

Background

The Sound Health program seeks to expand public understanding of the connections between music and wellness: how music is processed by the brain, how music can impact development and learning, and the therapeutic use of music for specific health conditions. Launched in 2016, Sound Health is a partnership between the National Institutes of Health ("NIH") and the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts ("Kennedy Center"), in association with the National Endowment for the Arts ("Arts Endowment") (individually known as “Partner” and collectively known as “the Partnership”).

Together with soprano Renée Fleming, the Kennedy Center’s Artistic Advisor at Large, the Partnership has produced concerts, workshops, symposia, and other events to spotlight novel work at the intersection of music, neuroscience, music therapy, and music education. Following publication of a jointly-authored article in the scientific journal Neuron, NIH announced a trans-agency working group and, later, a $5 million research funding opportunity cosponsored by the Arts Endowment. On a parallel track, the Arts Endowment provided support for several NEA Research Labs focused on music and its relationship to neuroscience, cognition, and health and wellness. It has become clear that greater organizational capacity is needed to create and sustain a trans-disciplinary network of researchers and practitioners to promote knowledge about music’s role in brain development and health and wellness across the lifespan.

In response to this need, the Arts Endowment will establish the Sound Health Network to connect relevant subject matter experts (individuals and organizations) and other appropriate entities together in order to leverage and inform each other’s work. The Sound Health Network will identify and distribute compelling research, news, and information across to the public; it will regularly convene Sound Health Network participants with audiences and stakeholders who can benefit directly from this knowledge; and it will provide technical and logistical support for collaborations that may occur between participants within the Sound Health Network. Longer-term, the Sound Health Network also will consider the feasibility of exploring how other art forms, in addition to music, may connect with brain and wellness issues.
Scope of Work

The purpose of this Program Solicitation is to select an organization (the “Cooperator”) to coordinate the Sound Health Network. In brief, the Cooperator will:

1. Establish and coordinate the Sound Health Network comprised of the existing Sound Health Partners, relevant subject matter experts (individuals and organizations) and other appropriate entities to share and leverage research and practice in music, neuroscience, music therapy, and health and wellness. The Sound Health Network will convene regularly to discuss research findings and consider the potential implications for the field.
2. Create, maintain, and promote an online clearinghouse of relevant Sound Health Network research findings, programs, and related events.
3. Produce and disseminate through the online clearinghouse or directly to Sound Health Network participants topical resource materials such as research summaries, policy briefs, and fact sheets about music and the brain.
4. Identify for Sound Health Network participants opportunities to promote connections between music and the brain such as but not limited to convenings for the field, speaking engagements, etc. Track, maintain, and disseminate current rosters of Sound Health Network participants and their areas of expertise, relevant speaking engagements, etc.
5. Provide consultative services and logistical support to Sound Health Network participants seeking to collaborate on related research projects or events, as appropriate.
6. Develop and implement a comprehensive communications plan designed to disseminate information from the Sound Health Network regarding key findings, important engagements, etc. to stakeholders.

This award will be made as a cooperative agreement. The Arts Endowment uses two types of awards to fund project activities: cooperative agreements and grants. A cooperative agreement is different from a grant in that the Arts Endowment is substantially involved with the awardee in the direction and accomplishment of the program. Both funding mechanisms are subject to Title 2 of the Code of Federal Regulations, Part 200.

More information can be found under “Detailed Requirements” below.

Detailed Requirements

The Cooperator will work with the Arts Endowment Project Director, and through the Arts Endowment Project Director with other agency staff as appropriate, on all aspects of this project. The Project Director will be the Arts Endowment’s Director of Research & Analysis, who will work closely with the agency’s Director of Music & Opera.

The Cooperator will consult with, and will secure the approval of, the Arts Endowment Project Director in carrying out the responsibilities below.
The Cooperator will:

- Work with the Arts Endowment Project Director to refine the details and schedule of all project components.

- Establish and coordinate the Sound Health Network, comprising the existing Sound Health Partners (i.e., the Arts Endowment, NIH, and Kennedy Center), relevant subject matter experts (individuals and organizations) and other related groups to share and leverage research in the areas of neuroscience, music therapy, and health and wellness. Sound Health Network participants will convene regularly (in-person and/or virtually) to discuss research findings and consider the potential implications for the field.
  - Conduct an inventory of potential initial participants of the Sound Health Network through a variety of ways including but not limited to a literature review or field scan and by consulting the Sound Health Partners. Propose potential participants to the Arts Endowment and create and present a comprehensive marketing and communications plan for explaining the Sound Health Network and the benefits of participation.
  - Working with the Arts Endowment, identify a process for announcing and promoting Sound Health Network participation, as needed. Field inquiries from groups and individuals seeking to participate in the Sound Health Network.
  - Propose participant meeting/activity formats and frequencies, dates, topics, schedules, and presenters.
  - Arrange for any resources necessary for meetings/activities (e.g., teleconference or webinar software, materials, room rental, supplies), as appropriate.
  - Directly pay the travel expenses and fees of any presenters, participants, consultants, or contractors, as appropriate.
  - Document each of the Sound Health meetings and produce a written summary of key presentations, activities, and outcomes to share with the public.
  - On an ongoing basis, identify opportunities for research and/or programmatic collaborations within the Sound Health Network, facilitate dialogues between and among Sound Health Network participants, conduct background research as needed, and recommend action items to the Arts Endowment Project Director.

Secure Arts Endowment approval on all of the above program aspects before final arrangements are made.

- Provide a central liaison to the Sound Health Network, as well as all necessary administrative support. The central liaison will coordinate projects, administer... resources, and meet regularly with the Arts Endowment Project Director to monitor progress in completing project activities. The central liaison may also be requested by the Arts Endowment to provide periodic project updates to the other Sound Health Partners in a mutually agreed upon format.

- On an ongoing basis, assess the availability of new research findings and related information that can be shared with various public stakeholders in compelling formats and/or on multiple platforms. Produce and disseminate resource materials (e.g., research summaries, fact sheets, etc.) to Sound Health Network participants and the general public, as appropriate. The Arts Endowment Project Director will provide input on specific areas of interest and will review and approve resource materials before they are disseminated through the online clearinghouse Sound Health Network participants.

- Develop, host, maintain, and promote a centralized online national clearinghouse of relevant research findings, publications, programs, and related events.
  - Provide plans for the online clearinghouse’s functionality and design to the Arts Endowment Project Director for review and approval.
  - Provide all information necessary for the Arts Endowment Project Director to have full access to and use of the online clearinghouse throughout the Cooperative Agreement period of performance.
  - Design and maintain the online clearinghouse in a manner that will ensure the content on the online clearinghouse may be easily shifted to another site at the conclusion of the cooperative agreement and transferred to a new cooperator.
  - All online clearinghouse content must be approved by the Arts Endowment Project Director.
  - Secure all the proper and relevant rights, permissions, licenses, and releases for the content proposed to be posted to the online clearinghouse (see below for additional information on the Rights, as defined below).

- Identify and share relevant engagement opportunities for Sound Health Network participants to further Sound Health and possibly content for the online clearinghouse. Track, maintain, and disseminate current rosters of Sound Health Network participants and their areas of expertise, relevant speaking engagements, etc.

- Provide consultative services and logistical support to Sound Health Network participants seeking to collaborate on related research projects or events, as appropriate. This may include: staffing, scheduling, and facilitating meetings or teleconferences; taking meeting notes or minutes; and developing and presenting background materials to aid discussion.
• Through discussions with the Arts Endowment’s Office of Public Affairs (OPA), facilitated by the Arts Endowment Project Director, develop and implement a comprehensive communications plan. Produce all communications and project materials in a format and style compatible for dissemination through the Arts Endowment’s online platforms.
  - All public communications, materials, presentations, and press releases, as well as speaking engagements, contacts with press, and publications, must be approved by the Arts Endowment Project Director.
  - Include Arts Endowment-designated crediting language in all appropriate communications and materials produced for and by the project.

• Secure approval from the Arts Endowment Project Director of any staff, consultants, contractors, or partner organizations that will be working on project activities, before they are engaged.

• Secure all necessary rights, permissions, licenses, and releases as appropriate to the project (the “Rights”). The Rights may include, but are not limited to, permissions for visual images, video, and other online project components.

• Degree to which the proposal demonstrates a comprehensive understanding of the project’s requirements.
• Ability to identify established and emerging practices in the fields of brain research, music, cognition, health, and wellness.
• Quality of the products and services that the project will involve.

The artistic merit of the planned project activities, specifically the:

8. Primary Contact/Grant Administrator:

Provide the requested information for the individual who should be contacted on all matters involving this application. Select a Prefix.

If this individual is the same as the Project Director, you may check the "Same as Project Director" box and not repeat information that you have already provided in Item 7. (If the Primary Contact/Grant Administrator is the same as the Authorizing Official, complete all items under both 8 and 9 even though there will be some repetition.)
Due to restrictions from the Department of Homeland Security we are not able to send emails to alias addresses that forward to another email account. Do not enter this type of email address.

Due to restrictions from the Department of Homeland Security we are not able to send emails to alias addresses that forward to another email account. Do not enter this type of email address.

How to Use the Attachments Form:

The "Attachments Form" is not a form in the conventional sense. Rather, it is a place to attach documents that you have completed and saved as portable document format (PDF) files elsewhere on your computer.

Several important points:

1. Attachment 3, the Project Budget Form, is a National Endowment for the Arts fillable form; you will find a link below. This form can be filled in, saved to your computer, and attached without the need for special software or conversion to PDF.

   Be sure you are using Adobe Reader (version 9 or higher) when filling out our PDF forms.

   Note to Mac users: Your computer may be set to open PDF files using Preview (you can tell which program is being used to view a PDF file by looking at the left-most item in the menu bar). Verify that you are using Adobe Reader and not Preview. If you don't have Adobe Reader installed, you can download it here: http://get.adobe.com/reader/

2. All other attachments are non-form documents that you will compose in accordance with the instructions provided. These items must be submitted as PDF files.
Do not create PDFs of your electronic documents by scanning. In the past, some applicants have printed their electronic documents and then scanned them, saving the scan in PDF format. PDFs created this way are much larger, and of lower quality, than PDFs created by the methods we recommend. Do not enable any document security settings or password-protect any PDF file you submit to us.

No attachment should be more than 2 MB.

When you open the Grants.gov Attachments Form, you will find 15 attachment buttons. By clicking on a button, you will be able to choose the PDF file from your computer that you wish to attach. Attach the proper file to the proper button as listed below.

The Attachments

Do not submit web links in any of the attachments as the content in those web links will not be reviewed.

ATTACHMENT 1: To this button attach a narrative (no more than 5 pages in length) that addresses the points below. The file name should indicate the name of your organization or a recognizable acronym followed by "Narrative" (e.g., "ABCOrgNarrative").
